Sino-Japanese Negotiations

Tokyo Modifies Demands

Tokyo, Oct. 27.

A slight modification in Japan's attitude in the Sino-Japanese negotiations has been agreed to by the Foreign Office according to several newspapers.

The "Nichi Nichi" says that the deliberations yesterday resulted in a decision "to seek nothing more from China at present than commitment in broad outlines regarding Japan's demands in North China and anti-communist co-operation."

The "Miyako Shimbun" calls the present demands the lifeline of the Japanese proposals which cannot be withdrawn, but acceptance thereof may "make the sacrifices by Japan on satisfactory points inevitable."

High Japanese officials of the War and Foreign Offices are reported to have agreed after a conference that every effort should be made to acquaint Chinese officials more fully with the fair and equitable nature of the Japanese proposals, thus removing possible misunderstandings and expediting consummation of negotiations.

The meeting emphasised that North China anti-communist issues could not be treated separately since they were the very basis of readjustment of Sino-Japanese relations.—Reuter

HONG KONG AND CANTON

Closer Economic Relations

LINKING RAILWAYS SUGGESTED

Canton.

Economic relations between Canton and Hong Kong are becoming more and more intimate, following the recent amicable solution of the Liangkwan imbroglio.

The recent visit of H.E. Sir Andrew Caldecott, Governor of Hong Kong, to Canton attracted no little attention in Chinese and foreign political circles. Ostensibly, Sir Andrew came here to pay a courtesy call on General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan. But according to many press reports, his trip was in connection with the problem of linking up the Canton-Kowloon Railway with the Canton-Hankow Railway.

HONG KONG NOT "SOLD"

ROTARIAN'S CRITICISM

Should Be "Mecca Of Pleasure Seekers"

Addressing the Rotary Club yesterday, Mr. S. Yamanaka, a Japanese Rotarian who is shortly leaving the Colony after a business sojourn of several years, said:—

"None of my American friends have written to me to ask what kind of a place Hong Kong is. This means definitely that Hong Kong is not advertised as much as Bali. In my opinion Hong Kong is not 'sold' to the world at the face value of its beautiful scenery, clear blue waters and pleasant climate."

"If properly advertised Hong Kong should draw many more tourists from all over the world and be the Mecca of pleasure seekers." (Hear, hear).

HEROIN ADDICTS

Hospital Proposal

Owing to the great number of victims of the heroin eating and smoking habits, and the lengthy period required for curing addicts of the injurious and demoralizing habit, it is reported that the Tung Wah Hospital Authorities have been considering ways and means for accommodating and feeding heroin addicts, until they are permanently cured.—Chinese Evening Press.

PROTEST AT CLUB MEETING

"Nets Are In Shreds" Says Mr. E. Zimmern

CRAIGENGOWER C.C. ANNUAL MEETING

Speaking at the 43rd annual general meeting of the Craigengower Cricket Club held yesterday evening, Mr. E. Zimmern, remarked that he regretted to say that, in his opinion, the General Committee had not done their best to stimulate interest. "We have youth and we have talent," said Mr. Zimmern, "but we need guidance and encouragement from the older members of the club."

Mr. Zimmern said that he wanted to commend to the In-Coming Committee the question of cricket gear which he said was in a disgraceful condition. The cricket pitch, he said, had not been cared for all through the summer and the practice pitch, he said, could only be regarded as a source of danger for batsmen.

The cricket nets, he added, were in shreds, and he suggested that the newly elected committee should go into the matter immediately.

Mr. C. S. Rosset, Acting Chairman of the Club, presided at the meeting.

REFEREES AND THE PRESS

Criticised And Critical To Meet At Soccer!

(BY "ADREM")

It is probable that a Colony Press team will meet a representative side of Colony referees at soccer, following a tentative proposal put forward at the conclusion of a recent meeting of the Hong Kong Referees Association, by "Veritas," sports writer of an evening contemporary.

The proposition was enthusiastically welcomed by the referees. Thus the critical and criticised will clash in mortal combat on the sports arena!

It was decided that the match (when arranged) should be for charity.

I for one back up my colleague's suggestion, so pressmen rally round! The "critical" will show 'em how it's done, and this decidedly "sporty" feature should attract a lucrative "gate."

World's Shipyards

Over 2,000,000 Tons Under Construction

CLYDE LEADS

Lloyd's Register shipbuilding returns for the quarter ended, September 30 show that the mercantile tonnage now under construction in the shipyards of the world amounts to 2,111,437. This is the highest quarterly total recorded in the past six years, and it is the first occasion since December, 1930, that the aggregate tonnage has exceeded 2,000,000.

The Cunard White Star liner No. 552 is included in the returns, which therefore brings the work on hand in the Clyde area to over 400,000 tons, approximately equal to 20 per cent. of the total for the world.

Of the tonnage being built in foreign countries, upwards of 400,000 tons (or 34 per cent.) are intended for registration elsewhere than the countries in which the ships are being built.

PAINTING EXHIBITION

Admires Luis
Chan's Pieces

H.E. ALSO ATTENDS

Hong Kong art lovers who attended the one man exhibition of oils and water colour works of Mr. Luis Chan, a purely local Chinese artist, expressed their surprise at the great stride of improvement shown in his pieces which were hung at the Gloucester Building yesterday. The painting exhibition was formally opened by Lady Caldecott and was held under the auspices of the Hong Kong Working Artists Guild.

The water colours were particularly pleasing and were all finished in the cheerful style characteristic of Mr. Chan. In a few of the pictures their appearances were rendered the more presentable by the apparent absence of the artist's signature which were cleverly fitted into the body of some background detail.

Lady Caldecott declared the exhibition open and dispensed with the formality of a speech. She was charmingly received by the artist's mother and relatives who presented Hong Kong's first lady with a bouquet of flowers. Lady Caldecott's taste was centred on a fine water colour piece entitled "Low Tide, Causeway Bay."

Later in the morning the exhibition was further graced by the presence of Sir Andrew Caldecott who expressed keen admiration of the artist's work.

GALLANT RESCUE

Gallant action by a member of the Military Foot Police, and a civilian in the early hours of yesterday morning when both were concerned in rescuing a Chinese woman who jumped into the harbour off the Praya Wall in Wanchai, is contained in a police report issued yesterday.

The report states that a woman named Mok Yu-kan, aged 23 years, of No. 63 Wanchai Road attempted to end her life by jumping into the harbour off Stewart Road, at 1 a.m.

Corporal Wright assisted by Mr. Pincott rushed to the unfortunate woman's aid, and succeeded in rescuing her. She was sent to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from the effects of the immersion.

Family trouble was stated to be the cause of her suicide attempt.

RED ACTIVITIES IN SWITZERLAND

Geneva, Oct. 26.
Material is being examined by the Swiss police which was found on 20 foreign Communists. It is revealed that Switzerland was being used as headquarters for an extensive and widespread organisation engaged in smuggling illegal Communist literature into foreign countries. All those arrested had false passports, and passed as agents of the Soviet charity organisation "Red Relief Service," which was being used as a cover for the illegal activities.

The investigations which are creating a sensation here, are still being continued, and the Federal Council is now contemplating measures to prevent such activities being again carried out in Switzerland. The belief is generally expressed that the "Red Relief Service" will be prohibited.

RANCHI IN DOCK

Repairs Undertaken Immediately

When early dawn broke over Hong Kong yesterday, the s.s. Ranchi, 16,600-ton liner of the P. & O. fleet, quietly slipped into port and at 7 o'clock was already dry and fast in dock where extensive work of repairs to her stern were immediately put into effect. The damage she sustained was a result of her striking a rock near the Button Island, in the mouth of the Yangtze.

Although no information could be obtained from the company's officials as to the full extent of her damage, as officially stated a few days ago the vessel will leave here on schedule for her homeward trip, on November 28.

SECRET MUNITIONS FACTORIES

Paris, Oct. 26.
The sensational discovery of a secret munitions factory in Lyons, which in the past weeks had produced no less than 100,000 hand-grenades, seems to have been only the beginning of still more startling discoveries.

Five other industrialists in Lyons were arrested on Monday, and the police up to now have confiscated 140,000 hand-grenades in Lyons alone, according to the "Paris Soir." Altogether 35 manufacturers have been arrested throughout the country for illegal munitions manufacturing, 30,000 hand-grenades having been confiscated in one factory alone.

OPIUM CASE ENDS

Two Northern Men Found Guilty

SHOOTING FATALITY SEQUEL

Hui Tse-ling and Chu Ping-hop, seamen, were charged before Mr. W. Schofield on remand at the Central Magistracy yesterday for possession of 9,600 teal of raw opium, on board the s.s. Hal Tan.

Mr. M. W. Lo appeared for the defence while R. O. Grimmitt prosecuted. Following further evidence by the prosecution first defendant, entered the box. He could remember nothing about what had occurred. Mr. Lo experienced difficulty with his client, who gave him no assistance. Eventually defendant was requested to stand down.

The second defendant admitted saying in the charge room that the opium was not his.

Mr. Lo in his final address said that he no case to answer, as all the evidence proved that the defendants were found and arrested some distance from the opium, and therefore could not have had possession of such goods.

Conquer that Weakness!
You can—with SANATOGEN

"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, and more particularly in cases of general debility".

—writes "The Lancet."

"A Great Strengtheners", wrote the Hon. Sir F. A. Robertson, Judge of the Chief Court, Lahore, about Sanatogen.

Remember that these letters—and thousands similar—were written by people who, before the use of Sanatogen, were just as sceptical as you may be of its tonic effects. But they decided to try Sanatogen and they got back their health and vigour.

"Sanatogen"—as a well-known London physician puts it—"goes straight to the core of well-being, namely, the cells—and builds these up into a permanent and solid fabric of health."

Sanatogen will build up your Health lastingly. Over 25,000 physicians support this claim with their written commendation.

"Sanatogen gives a distinct restorative effect", writes Sir Luke White.

"My nurses and myself were very much struck with my rapid improvement with Sanatogen", writes the wife of a well-known doctor, Mrs. C. A. M. Phillips.

"A Wonder-worker" are the words in which Mr. Coulson Kernahan, the well-known author, describes Sanatogen.

SANATOGEN will always do you good and cannot possibly do harm.

PHILIPPINES' BIG MEDICAL BIDFor World's Quinine
TradeTOTAQUINA FACTORY INAUGURATED

The attention of the medical world is focussed on the Philippines to-day as a result of the inauguration of the totaquina factory and the announcement by the government of the extension plans to supply this factory with greater quantities of cinchona bark. The adaptability of Philippine soil and the possibility of growing cinchona trees on a great scale, encouraged the Filipinos to bid for the world's quinine trade, states Silvestre Atale in the "Manila Bulletin".

The prohibitive cost of quinine and the millions who die of malaria every year have made the inauguration of the totaquina factory in the Philippines by the bureau of science a great event. Malaria, that ancient tropical disease, which kills millions of the poor and needy, has not been completely eradicated because of the small supply of quinine which makes its cost prohibitive.

Up to the present, the Dutch hold a monopoly of the quinine trade producing 97 per cent. of the total world quinine supply. The opening of the factory in the Philippines, therefore, places this country as one of the possible
competitors in the quinine world
market, thus encouraging business for the Filipino people.

COMPETE WITH DUTCH?

Whether or not the Philippines can produce sufficient quinine to compete with the Dutch, is a matter that remains to be seen because the venture here is as yet
in its infancy. Furthermore, it was only lately that enough public interest has been aroused to evoke a more liberal government financial backing.

However, one thing is believed certain, and that is, the country has every reason to hope that the cinchona plantation and the totaquina factory will be able to provide this cheaper remedy to the millions of malaria sufferers every year.

Arthur F. Fischer, forestry director who was largely instrumental in the successful transplanting of cinchona to Philippine soil, wants it on record that this is his main and immediate objective. When that goal will have been reached,
he said then it will be time to go
after the world quinine market, which from all indications will be open for quite sometime as the present available supply fills only two per cent. of the requirement.

EXTENSION OF PLANTINGS

With the executive signature of approval virtually affixed on the P250,000 reforestation bill, in which P50,000 is included for the Bukidnon cinchona plantation, the bureau of forestry will soon proceed to extend the plantings in Bukidnon and conduct studies in other suitable places. Other sections of Mindanao and the immediate vicinity of the Mount Kan-laon forest reservation in Negros appear to be the most promising among the prospective plantation sites. These regions, aside from being climatically suitable, are evidently places outside the typhoon belt where the hazards of strong winds, a deadly enemy of the delicate cinchona plant, are not present.

These plantings will be extended to cover around 3,800 hectares.
The area believed needed to supply Philippine requirements of the mark.

In bidding for the world market, successful entry of the Philippines is believed possible through the sale of totaquina than through the sale of the usual form of malarial febrifuge, quinine sulphate.
At present, the production of this cheaper remedy is not yet extensive and the market for it is bigger than that for quinine sulphate
because of its lower price.

FLOOD OF INQUIRIES

The start of the local cinchona industry, given impetus by the inauguration of the totaquina factory, has induced a flood of inquiries from businessmen and planters regarding the prospects of the trade. The bureau of forestry is trying to encourage private enterprise but Director Fischer believes that individual plantations must be subjected to government supervision as in Java. Although he does not advocate a government monopoly, Director Fischer is in favour of government supervision of private cinchona estates,
believing that inexpert attention might destroy any hope to get a maximum yield of the bark.

As a result of the successful introduction of cinchona in the Philippines, the country boast of having the most promising plantation outside Java since the race to transplant the tree from the Andes highlands to the tropics started two hundred years ago.
The English "cinchona" groves in India and Ceylon, while turning out a fair yield of bark are reported not even self-sustaining. More unfortunate are the attempts of the French to try their luck in Indo-China, of the Belgians in Africa, the Russians in the Black Sea, and of the Americans in California. All these efforts of the world powers, including that of the Dutch in Java, have been primarily aimed to supply quinine for their citizens and for their subjects in the tropical colonies.

GERMANY AND
HER NAVYOfficers Are Youths
Of Good Families

SAIL TRAINING

The recent decision of the German Government to increase the period of compulsory military training from one to two years will not materially affect the Navy.
Except for the period immediately following the Great War, German officers have always made the Navy their life profession, and do so now. The men are also selected from volunteers for four years,
with the possibility of serving for another eight if chosen to qualify as officers, states the Naval Correspondent of the "Morning Post".

With the present expansion of the Fleet, many retired officers have rejoined the service, some after being ashore as long as sixteen years. They are not, as a rule, employed in sea-going ships.

New officer entrants, whether destined for the executive, engineer, or accountant branches,
are chosen from youths of good family between the ages of nineteen and twenty, after stringent examination for knowledge and physical fitness. Thereafter, they go to a shore establishment at Stralsund for a three-months preliminary course in discipline, drill, and infantry training; then to the sail-training vessel, Gorch Fock, where they spend three and a half months as seamen doing
all the usual work of the ship.
Next they serve between six and nine months in the training cruiser Emden or one of the older battleship which make foreign cruises, followed by a year at the Naval College at Mürwik, where they undergo the more theoretical and scientific portions of their training.
After further courses in practical gunnery, torpedo and other technical subjects, they are finally drafted to the ships of the sea-going fleet. No charges are levied upon

of their sons.

Though in the junior ranks,
German officers may be a little older than their British opposites numbers and go to sea somewhat later, there is no doubt that the system produces men of a very high standard with a thorough knowledge of their profession.
Thanks also to the sail training,
and to the number of yachts and small sailing craft provided by the Admiralty, all German naval officers have a good knowledge of sail seamanship.

SPANISH ENVOY
MEETS EDEN

London, Oct. 28.

The Spanish Ambassador, Senor
Azcarate paid a visit to the Foreign Office to-day when, it is understood Mr. Anthony Eden discussed with him the British appeal to both parties engaged in the Civil war in Spain, for an exchange of prisoners held as hostages, and the reply of the Madrid Government maintaining that the release of the prisoners held in the capital would amount, in effect to helping the insurgents.

The Foreign Secretary is believed to have pressed Senor Azcarate strongly on the matter and to have urged that the Madrid Government should take some measures calculated to reassure the anxieties aroused outside Spain regarding the safety of the large number of prisoners in Madrid. The numbers are unofficially estimated at 14,000.

Meantime no reply to the British appeal has yet been received from the authorities of the anti-government forces, but it is understood the representations have met with goodwill.

CHANGE IN OATH AT CORONATION

Altered Status Of Dominions

NATIONAL HOLIDAY PLANS

When the King takes the Coronation Oath at Westminster Abbey next May, he will use a different form of words from that of his predecessors on the Throne to comply with the provisions of the Statute of Westminster which changed the status of the Dominions, states the "Daily Telegraph."

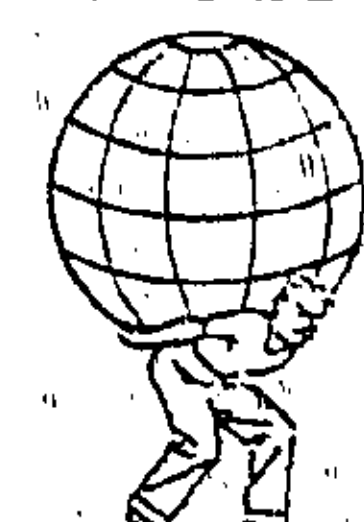

The new wording, which has been drawn up after consultation between ecclesiastical and constitutional authorities, will not be revealed until the full programme for the Coronation is issued.

It is understood that the service itself will be shorter than was the case at the Coronation of King George, because of the absence of a Queen Consort.

The Coronation Committee will meet to consider the question of a Coronation Durbar at Delhi. It will also discuss whether Coronation Day, May 12, is to be a Bank Holiday throughout the British Empire, and whether May 13, when the King is expected to drive in Royal Progress through

"LOST HORIZON" PROBLEM

Hollywood's most difficult problem in hairdressing was encountered recently at Columbia Studios for scenes in Frank Capra's forthcoming "Lost Horizon" starring Ronald Colman.

The assignment required the making of eight thousand one hundred braids to be worn by Tibetan natives in the picture. A Tibetan woman, research revealed, wears her hair in exactly one hundred and eight braids.

The number of braids never varies, for the custom has a religious significance, each braid representing a volume of the Khamdun, or Tibetan bible. The Columbia Studio hairdressers were required to furnish seventy-five wigs braided according to the native specification.

London, will be a holiday for the whole metropolis.

All detail work of the ceremonial at the Coronation is left to the office of the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, who has just moved with his staff of Kings-at-Arms and Herald from the College of Heralds, in Queen Victoria-street, to Buckingham Gate, only a short distance from Buckingham Palace.

The Earl Marshal's office is at present preparing plans for the seating arrangements in Westminster Abbey, and deciding upon claims of people at home and from the Dominions to be present during the Coronation service.

CLOSING THE ABBEY

The date upon which Westminster Abbey will be closed to the public will be announced as soon as it has been decided by the Duke of Norfolk. His office will prepare a list of the preparations for the Office of Works to carry out.

Dress regulations for those attending the service and the form of service are circulated by the Earl Marshal, whose office acts as the connecting link between the Coronation Committee and the public.

Within the next few months the Commissioner of Police will prepare a plan for every street and leave Westminster Abbey on May 12. This will be made public early next year, with a list of streets which will be closed to traffic and the names of streets at which barriers will be erected to control the crowd.

"THE LAW IN HER HANDS"

"The Law In Her Hands," the First National comedy drama, showing to-day at the King's Theatre for the first time locally, is a thoroughly entertaining picture, crammed full of thrilling incidents, fast action, hilarious comedy situation and a glamorous romance.

The story is woven about the operations of two women lawyers, who after nearly starving to death as honest and upright barristers, decide the whole game is one of tricks and go in for criminal law, becoming rich and successful as the "mouthpieces" of a band of racketeers.

Goaded into their doubtful practice by an assistant district attorney who attempts to trick them in a case he is prosecuting, in order to show them that law is no place for women, they outwit him in court at every turn by clever and uproariously funny ruses.

Margaret Lindsay and Glenda Farrell do exceptionally fine teamwork as the women attorneys.

"MAN HUNT"

Ricardo Cortez has added another characterization to the lengthy gallery of portrayals of suave, soft-spoken, outwardly gentlemanly rascals. His present role is that of a jail-breaking bandit who is the centre of interest in the Warner Bros. picture "Man Hunt," which is the current attraction at the Star Theatre. Most of the plot development in "Man Hunt" hinges upon the ability of the character played by Cortez to convince the heroine, played by Marguerite Churchill, that he is not nearly so bad a fellow as public repute has him. At the same time, for the story to be effective, the audience must be kept fully aware that he is a sinister figure.

RONALD COLMAN TO WED

"Will Be Any Day Now"

Ronald Colman, famous screen lover, supposedly Hollywood's No. 1 woman-hater, has astonished the film colony by announcing that he will wed "any day now."

But who his bride will be is keeping a close secret. Rumour is now busy linking his name with several women. Ruth Chatterton has been one of Colman's nearest friends. And at the moment Ruth is not married. But a name most coupled with his is that of Elizabeth Allan—but she is happily married to a London lawyer.

FRIEND'S VIEW

But it is most likely, one of Colman's intimate friends said that the famous star will marry someone quite outside the sphere of the cinema.

For many years, after his first and unhappy marriage crashed, Colman lived alone—with only a valet—in a mountain shack outside Hollywood. His woman friends were few—and they were no more than friends.

But now the old constraint has gone. With that happy smile which is well-known on the screen, he says: "I want to marry and have children. It may happen any day now."

"LITTLE AMERICA"

Tractors nose diving into snow-filled crevasses of unknown depth, the collapse of Mountain House where Admiral Richard Byrd lived during his 7-month isolation, an airplane ascent to 16,000 feet, the record for Antarctic flying and the planting of the flag at the peak of Mt. Grace McKinley are but a few of the thrilling high spots in Paramount's historical record of the second Byrd trek, "Little America," which comes to-day to the Majestic Theatre.

"The tractor shots are as exciting as the flight across the South Pole in the first Byrd Antarctic film," said Carl Petersen, one of the Paramount news cameramen who accompanied the expedition and filmed many of the picture's scenes. "It's the first time tractors were ever used in the polar regions. We covered 20,000 miles with them, plus 6,000 miles by dump team."

Petersen and John Herrmann, fellow cameramen also on the trip, supervised the development and editing of "Little America," which totaled 100,000 feet in length, and at which they ground away for 18 months in unbearable cold, so intense at times that the film turned brittle and broke in the cameras.

This rather paradoxical job of convincingly deluding other characters in a picture as to his real nature while making the audience thoroughly conscious of his actual character is an old story to Cortez.

"The old-fashioned type of menacing, sneering, brutal heavy is past," said Cortez. "After all, a villain is not any different from other men and should be played as a natural human being."

DIETRICH "DOUBLES" FOR BERGNER

HOLLYWOOD SHORTS

It has often and wrongly been said of Elisabeth Bergner that the slightest interruption on the set makes it impossible for her to concentrate on a difficult scene.

An incident which happened one day during the making of her current film, "Dreaming Lips," the Max Schach Trafalgar production for United Artists, illustrates how she allows her delightful sense of humour to intrude into the most moving and tragic of scenes.

Paul Czimmer, her husband, was directing a particularly difficult scene in which Romney Brent, in the role of Elisabeth Bergner's husband, was lying dangerously ill in bed. The camera was trained on him whilst he was calling for his wife, then swung to the door through which she entered.

After the normal rehearsals, Paul Czimmer announced a "take" whilst were blown for silence. There was the usual hush of expectancy. As the camera turned to the door, it opened, but instead of admitting Elisabeth Bergner into the room, Marlene Dietrich appeared dressed in widow's weeds (she had been having a test on a neighbouring stage), and having been rehearsed by Miss Bergner behind the door, went through the scene word perfect.

This was the first intimation that anybody except Elisabeth Bergner had that Marlene Dietrich was present, and it speaks volumes for Romney Brent's acting ability that he showed not a trace of the astonishment he must have felt.

Spencer Tracy has a double. He is Thornton Martin, art editor of the "Saturday Evening Post," now in Hollywood on a visit. The two are almost identical in appearance.

Martin visited several Hollywood haunts with Frederick Smith the magazine writer.

Wherever they went, fans approached Martin, addressing him as "Mr. Tracy" and demanding autographs.

"He simply gave them autographs and let it go at that," gleefully relates Smith.

Cecil B. De Mille, now directing his sixty-third picture, "The Plainsman," has the same luncheon daily. It consists of a mixed green salad, coconut custard pie and iced coffee.

Ethel Clayton is doing a small bit in Paramount's "Hideaway Girl."

Mary Boland has a new dash—she purchased him from Charlie Ruggles and is now looking around for a good name. Mary has two pekes named Little Siam and Snooty.

A man can't make effective screen love unless his trousers are freshly pressed. This the observation of Kent Taylor, who divides the romantic interest in Paramount's "The Accusing Finger" with Marsha Hunt.

Rapturous, tragic and unforgettable for its sweep and power, 20th Century's "Under Two Flags," brings together four of the screen's greatest stars in a flaming story of men's heroism and women's devotion. Appearing with RONALD COLMAN, playing the leading role, are CLAUDETTE COLBERT, VICTOR McLAGLEN and ROSALIND RUSSELL.

Coming to the King's and Alhambra on October 31.

RAREST FUR GARMENT

The world's rarest and most valuable fur garment—a silvery albino mink coat, whose skin collection required sixteen years—may be worn by exotic Dolores Del Rio, screen star, in her next picture. The coat, of which no duplicate exists, is owned by Louis Rittler who sold Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt her rare fur collection. The actress, while selecting her wardrobe for her next Columbia picture, "Deaths Below," in which she will appear opposite Chester Morris and Richard Dix, inspected the valuable garment recently. "It is beautiful," commented Miss Del Rio. "Particularly astonishing is the fact that it shines like silver either night or day."

TRAFFIC OFFENCES

Ignorance Plea By European

SUMMONS ADJOURNED

"I am entirely ignorant of the alleged offence, and therefore I cannot plead to something I do not know about," stated Mr. W. R. K. Collings, of the Government Marine Surveyors' Office, when he appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday summoned that on October 14 while rounding a bend in King's Road near the Hong Kong Electric Company he failed to keep well to the left side of the road.

Traffic Sergeant Appleton stated that he was driving a car in uniform along King's Road from east to west and when rounding a left hand bend the defendant's car came towards him at a fairly fast speed on the right of the tram lines. The police officer had to pull over to the left to avoid him. He looked round and took the defendant's number.

The following day he tried to see him but was unable to do so and saw him the day after when he informed defendant that he was going to summons him. Defendant admitted then that he had driven his car but pleaded ignorance of the incident.

The road at the point of the incident was 78 feet wide and with the defendant driving on the wrong side, it left a clearance of 45 feet between his left side front wheel and the defendant's proper side of the kerb.

Hearing was fixed for November 3 at 12.15 p.m.

OTHER OFFENCES

Mr. E. S. C. Brooks, the well-known local solicitor, was fined $5 for driving his car in Plantation Road without a permit. Sgt. Hill, of Gough Hill Station, remarked that the defendant had only recently moved to the Peak and had since obtained a permit.

Miss M. Huntingford, of the War Memorial Hospital, was fined $5 for driving her car beyond the sign for prohibited traffic in Mount Kellett Road on October 14.

Sub-Inspector R. R. McEwen stated that he was put on special duty for checking cars going on prohibited roads.

Defendant stated that she parked her car outside the sisters' quarters which was beyond the sign.

Miss E. H. Giles, also of the War Memorial Hospital, was similarly fined on a summons for leaving her car unattended in Wong Nei Chung Road outside one of the main gates of the Jockey Club on a race day.

Defendant did not attend Court but sent a letter wherein she pleaded guilty to the offence.

WOOD FROM HILLSIDE

Two unemployed men and a married woman admitted before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Police Court yesterday the unlawful possession of 200 cabbies of wood in Robinson Road near Peel Street. Sergeant Dewar stated that one of the men told the police that he had obtained the wood from outside a Japanese resident's house but eventually stated that he picked up the wood on the hillside. The wood consisted of four bundles and two tree trunks. The defendants were each fined $2 with the alternative of ten days' hard labour.

ALLEGED THEFT OF FILM

Ip Yat-chau, 29, manager of the Nam Kwok Films, was charged before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday with the theft of a motion picture film, entitled "Nui Kan Dip" from 44, Pak Tai Street, Kowloon. The complainant, Lam Woon-kuen of room 217, Luk Kwok Hotel, was represented by Mr. W. A. Mackinlay while Mr. G. S. Ford appeared for the defendant. A remand of one week formal was granted and bail was fixed at $1,000.

BANISHEE GAOLED

Chan Yau, 58, unemployed, was sent to prison for a year by Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday when he admitted returning from banishment before expiration of his term of ten years from July 24 last. Acting Insp. W. Maier stated it was the defendant's fourth breach of the deportation ordinance.

FORGED BANK NOTES

Lenient View Taken By Bench

Three defendants were charged for possession of nine forged $5 bank notes purporting to be issued by the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank on October 8, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday. The accused were Yim Wan, 39, a building contractor, Ma Shui-wan, 25, his wife and Chan Mol, alias Chan Wing, 23, unemployed.

Mr. P. Sin appeared for first and second defendants.

Mr. J. M. d'Almada Remedios represented the third, who was arrested with the first defendant. Because of insufficient evidence third accused was discharged.

Det. Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham explained that on October 18 last, first and third defendants were arrested for possession of one forged $5 note. First defendant's wife was later apprehended in the house.

The woman threw a towel into the street. In the towel was found an envelope with a letter and 8 notes inside.

Second defendant in answer to the charge said "I will not speak" and first defendant said "The forged bank notes were not mine but were given to me by some one."

The women denied that she threw a towel over the verandah but that she took the towel to wrap up her child because it was cold and that she later gave the towel to a boy of 11 years old, who was in the flat at the time.

Mr. Peter Sin asked his Worship to be lenient, and said that if the accused were sentenced, the child would starve. It was their first offence.

Det. Sub-Inspector Cunningham warned His Worship that there were many of these forged notes circulating in the Colony.

First accused was fined $500 or six months' imprisonment, while the second accused was bound over in $250 for one year.

"PRETTY BAD RECORD"

Pickpocket Sent To Prison

In spite of being a police supervisee and with a record of four previous convictions against him for larceny from the person, Mak Chiu, 22, again fell foul of the law and found himself before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday when he pleaded guilty to the theft of $4 from Lau Yuet Shing, dentist, of 231, Temple Street, first floor.

Acting Inspector W. Maier stated that at 10.50 a.m. on Monday, the complainant was walking in Connaught Road Central near Rumsey Street when the defendant came up from behind and extracted the money from his right hand jacket pocket. He was arrested by a district watchman.

Handing up defendant's criminal record, Inspector Maier described it as a "pretty bad record."

Sentence of four months' hard labour was in filed.

COULDN'T RESIST IT!

Temptation overcame Lo Ho-yin, 25, while strolling in Tai Ping Shan Street, and, on seeing a chicken he could not resist taking it. He concealed it under his jacket and had made his way into another street when he was stopped by a detective and searched. He admitted theft. Before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Police Court yesterday, the man was bound over. Sgt. T. Matches, of Upper Levels Police Station, prosecuted.

EAR-RINGS SNATCHED

Ng Fat, 22, unemployed of No. 138 Tung Chou Street, 2nd floor was charged before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning for larceny of a pair of ear-rings.

Det. Sgt. E. Franklin explained that on Monday at 4.45 p.m. the complainant was in her way upstairs to her house when the defendant came up from behind her and snatched her ear-rings. He was arrested later. The ear-rings were not recovered. His Worship remanded the case for 24 hours.

BENCH'S WARNING

Against Interference With Law

What might have turned into more alarming consequences was the scene enacted on the a.s. Anhui on October 21 when Wong Chi-po assaulted P.C.D. 1, Sung Yun San, and tore his tunic at the shoulder, was related to Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

It appears that the constable was on duty at the gangplank on the morning in question at 3.40 a.m. when defendant, with three others, demanded that the iron grill be opened. The grill was not supposed to be opened until 4 a.m., and the constable refused their request.

The defendant then abused the constable roundly, and attempted to open the grill of his own accord.

A struggle ensued in which the tunic was torn, and the constable was struck in the left side of the shoulder.

The defendant was arrested on October 26 on board the ship, and, in answer to the charges denied the accusations, and accused the constable of striking him instead.

Defendant denied all the allegations against him, and reiterated that he had not struck the constable on the ship. He said that the shirt was torn when he was being chased into the engine room.

Defendant had three witnesses to testify for him, and while the first two largely corroborated his earlier statements, one said that the tunic was torn at the grill instead of at the engine room entrance.

The third witness, however, provoked much merriment when he admitted that he witnessed the scuffle on board the ship and that defendant had struck the constable more than once. Mr. Himsforth asked the witness for whom he was testifying and the reply was "that he merely wanted to tell the truth." (Laughter.)

His Worship informed defendant that the evidence was strongly pointing to his guilt.

Mr. Himsforth then said, "I am going to take a serious view of your offence. You have interfered with the anti-piracy law, which, only means facilitating a future piracy. However, I am going to give you the option of a fine because of your good character."

His Worship imposed a fine of $30 or six weeks on the first charge, and $3 amends or eight days on the second.

HEROIN POSSESSION

Tong Wong Ping, 26, unemployed, of No. 92 K1 Hung Street, second floor was charged before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning for the possession of 500 heroin. Det. Sgt. Riddell appeared for the prosecution.

The case was remanded for a week.

EMBEZZLEMENT

Appearing on remand before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday, Ching To-sang, 23, servant, was bound over in a bond for $100 on a charge of the embezzlement of $86.92 from the Kum Shing haberdashery firm, 33, Jervois Street. Det. Sgt. A. F. Cochran stated that the money had been paid back by the defendant's mother.

STOLE SINGLET

Seen to take a singlet from a counter in the Sun Sun Company, 222, Des Voeux Road Central, Chan Ling, 27, was caught after a chase and taken to the police station. Chan appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Police Court yesterday when he was sentenced to two months' hard labour. He admitted a previous conviction.

Acting Insp. W. Maier prosecuted.

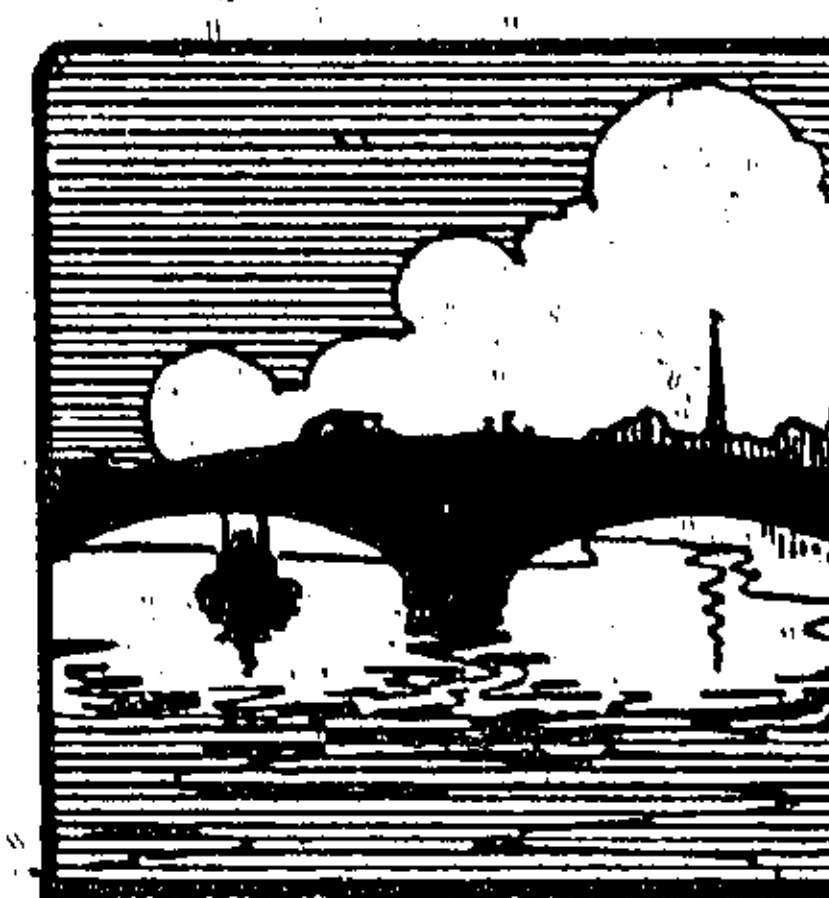

AVOIDING FARE

Lo So, 39 of 34 Woo Sung Street, first floor, was charged before Mr. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning for avoiding ferry fare on the Hong Kong-Yaumati vehicular boat, Man Yeung. It was stated accused attempted to utilise her husband's monthly ticket.

A fine of $10 was imposed.

LOCAL ROTARIANS SAY FAREWELL

Mr. W.H. Bell And Mr.
S. Yamanaka

INTERESTING ADDRESSES GIVEN YESTERDAY

Members of the Rotary Club of Shanghai, who attended the weekly tiffin held at the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday, joined in bidding farewell to two popular fellow Rotarians, Mr. S. Yamanaka, of the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, and Mr. W. H. Bell, of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, both of whom are shortly leaving Hong Kong after an extensive residence here.

During the course of the tiffin Mr. W. N. T. Tam, president of the Rotary Club of Hong Kong, who was in the chair, introduced the following:—Mr. Henry Hui-zing, of the University of Shanghai; Mr. F. M. MacBain, of Montreal; Mr. Frank Wilson, of the Lingnam University of Canton; and Messrs. C. Stigter, T. H. Jensen, A. Murdoch, L. M. S. Lloyd, T. W. Allatt, G. M. D. Wolf, J. W. Anderson, W. M. Barton, K. Mit-zisawa, K. Munatu, Y. Hayazaki, H. C. Hopkins, and Sir John Nicolson.

FAREWELL ADDRESS

Following the tiffin, Mr. S. Yamanaka made his farewell address to members and guests of the Rotary Club, in which he said:—

"It has been a great privilege to become acquainted with fellow Rotarians here. Your association has made my stay in Hong Kong a very pleasant one. My only regret is that I have to leave you just after beginning to know you. In the hope that it might interest you, I would like to tell you some of my experiences in Seattle where I first joined Rotary in the Spring of 1927. It was known there by the nickname of 'Yami' being an American abbreviation for Yamanaka. I was one of the very few members there who neither smoked nor drank. In this connection I can vividly recall what happened to me at a dinner at a small American club before the day of prohibition. The fellow who was sitting next to me had obviously noticed that I had been drinking only water throughout the long course of the dinner and when I refused a cigar when offered one, he shouted to me 'You don't drink, you don't smoke either. What the hell do you do to smell like a man.' (Laughter).

Attendance rules are very strictly observed in American Clubs. Members whose annual attendance records fall to reach 80 per cent. are liable to expulsion. Members, therefore, attach great importance to keeping up good records and so, if one happens to be unable to attend, a weekly meeting of the Club to which he belongs, he will try to make it up by attending a weekly meeting at a Club in a nearby town.

"JAVA NEAR BALL"

I was in Seattle until the Spring of 1931 when I was transferred to Sourabaya, Java. A few days after I received my appointment to Sourabaya, I came across a fellow Rotarian in the street. 'Yami,' he said, 'I understand you have been transferred to somewhere in the Far East. Where are you going?' 'To Sourabaya,' I answered. 'Where is that,' he asked. I told him it was in Java, the most important island of the Dutch East Indies. 'Java, Java,' he repeated, 'that must be near Ball.' (Laughter). As a matter of fact, thanks to the advertisements of the K.P.M., Ball is better known as Java to average Americans. On many occasions I was asked by American friends what kind of a place Java was, what kind of people lived there, what kind of language they spoke there etc., etc. My golf competitors, knowing that I did not like the idea of going to Java and trying to make me feel unhappy, made it a point of asking me questions about Java, with the result that I missed many a short easy putt. I became so disturbed that finally I had to give a talk on Java at one of the Rotary meetings.

HONG KONG NOT "SOLD"

None of my American friends have written to me to ask what kind of a place Hong Kong is. This means definitely that Hong Kong is not sold to the world at the face value of its beautiful scenery, clear blue waters and pleasant climate. If properly advertised Hong Kong should draw many more tourists from all over the world and be a Mecca of pleasure seekers.

Just to illustrate what some of my American friends think about Hong Kong, I cite two extracts from letters which I have received.

One letter says: 'At the same time I learned that you are now located at Hong Kong. That makes it possible for me to write to you which was not possible before because I could not remember how to spell that Dutch name!' Another says: 'Dear Yami, I always thought you would get so hot that they would have to put you in an ice house.' You know our office is in Prince's Building, which is on Ice House Street. I am sure this fellow will write to me again, when he hears that I am going to Hokkaido, that even Ice House Street in Hong Kong found me too hot!

VARIED PROGRAMME ARRANGED

I said something about strict observance of the attendance records in America. Over there, while members are urged to keep up good records, programme committees at the same time leave no stone unturned in order to make the meetings as interesting and diverse as possible by arranging a varied programme for each meeting, such as scientific lectures by prominent men, humorous or classification talks by members, musical or theatrical entertainments. Rotary songs are sung at every meeting. Efforts are also made by the Committee in charge to afford opportunities to members to get to know one another by holding golf tournaments, semi-annual outings, bridge drives, dancing parties etc.

ROTARY CAREER INTERRUPTED

My Rotary career was interrupted during my sojourn in Sourabaya. On my departure, the Seattle Rotary Club passed a resolution instructing the President to write in his name to the President of the Sourabaya Club to ask to have me elected as a member if there was a vacancy. The Sourabaya Club conducts all its meetings in nothing but the Dutch language. The only Dutch I know happens to be 'Dutch Treat.' In spite of the efforts of the President of the Sourabaya Club, my election to membership was made conditional upon my passing a language examination, for which I never tried.

NOMINATION APPRECIATED

After interrupting my Rotary life for nearly four years, I had the pleasure of being elected a member of Rotary Club, Hong Kong. You can appreciate what life is like to a Rotarian to be out of the Club and so can understand my joy when I was able to resume this connection again. For this reason, I have to thank those who proposed and seconded me and to thank the Club for having accepted me.

I sincerely wish the Rotary Club of Hong Kong everlasting prosperity and I am sure that it will forever be an important instrument in the fostering of good fellowship in this Colony between the residents of all nationalities. I thank you.

MR. BELL'S TALK

Mr. Tam then called the attention of those present to Mr. Bell whom he said represented the best type of Rotarian and who had found time to devote almost his entire time to the public good. In thanking the speaker for his remarks, Mr. Bell then delivered his address which he called 'An Impression.'

It was almost 48 years ago, Mr. Bell said, when he started to earn his living as a clerk in the city of Belfast. He was then a great bicycle enthusiast and claimed the distinction of being one of the first to ride on a bicycle fitted with pneumatic tyres. After one of his meetings with the late Thomas Jackson of the Hong Kong Bank, he found himself taken out of his job by that man and shoved into the bank. The speaker said he then came out East but it took him 17 years to reach Hong Kong.

EARLY TRANSPORTATION

He travelled out by the P. and O. vessel Ballarat. She possessed no such thing as electric lights, wireless or fans, and she was going from London to Australia. The ship had to be changed at Colombo, Mr. Bell said, and he found this very hot business. However, it was at Penang, he recalled the incident, where a young fellow was having dinner on a British gunboat. A discussion arose regarding the tide running through the Penang Harbour and, to prove his side of the argument, the young man plunged overboard, dinner clothes and all, and swam around the ship. The young man then spent the next two hours telling the gunboat crew about it. Mr. Bell then pointed out that although he spent three and a half years in that city and did what other young men did, he got home every night.

H.K. BANK'S OLD SITE

When he was in Penang he got a little seedy as a result of which he was given a short holiday in Hong Kong where he spent ten days. There is a great difference between the Hong Kong of 40 years ago and the Hong Kong of to-day, the speaker said, and pointed out that the Hong Kong Bank was in the old days located on the waterfront while the Hong Kong Club stood on the present site of the Queen's Theatre. During this holiday he met a very nice old gentleman, Sir Paul Chater, who took him out to his 'country' home at Kowloon and that, he added, gave his listeners an idea of what Kowloon was at that time.

At Penang he was fortunate in meeting with a great man whom he saw a great deal of. That man was the Sir Henri Deterding of to-day who was responsible in getting him to transfer his interests to the Asiatic Petroleum Company later. However, at Penang, when he was eventually ready to get out of it, he missed his boat. This vessel ran into a typhoon before she got into Hong Kong where she had just enough power of her own to crawl in and become scrapped. Mr. Bell said he went to Shanghai and did the usual things of the young men there but he also rode, played rugby and took an active part in that city's Volunteer Corps.

RETURNED HOME

After a military training, when he returned home, he went to Sandhurst, until the East lured him out again. He went back to Shanghai. On one occasion he had sent his wife and child to Chefoo for the summer and followed them in a China Merchants' boat. One of his fellow passengers was a man who had the remarkable habit of getting tight twice a day. The weather was rough during the trip and the speaker said, he sat down to play whilst for two solid days with this man.

At Chefoo he very kindly offered a seat in his sampan to another passenger but when they landed they were met by the United States Marshal there who had the latter arrested on a murder charge. The official adopted a wise plan in carrying out his duty by employing a well-known boxer to help him make the arrest. So much so that when the man attempted resistance the boxer got into action and the man was bundled away and put into the wash-house of the British Consulate where the man was temporarily lodged. However, the man was intent not to be kept a prisoner and he gained his freedom by escaping in the early dawn. He could not be found and when night came along again a party of 'gobs' were landed and the man eventually discovered hiding in his beach-hut.

JOINED A.P.C.

It was after some years of residence in Shanghai that Mr. Bell again met the great Sir Henri Deterding, following which he joined the staff of the Asiatic Petroleum Company. This was 26 years ago. The speaker then described an incident when he left Shanghai when the captain of his ship almost collided with another of the company's vessel outside Woosung. 'I heard the bang, jumped out of bed and stuck my nose out of the port-hole. I nearly banged my nose on the side of the other ship as it went past,' Mr. Bell told his listeners.

KINDLY ADVICE

Mr. Bell then told his fellow Rotarians about a man whom he met in Penang and who was extraordinarily good to him. He could not repay his benefactor's kindness and told him how awkward he felt about it. 'Don't worry, I felt the same way as you before,' he was told by his benefactor. A Chinese gentleman he had received favours from told him, 'you owe me nothing, but, remember, if you meet any little dog, pass what good I have done to you to him.' Mr. Bell then pointed out to his listeners that he was never able to pay off this debt for the good he was getting from others has put him into a greater debt than before.

'I do feel that what Rotarians are doing, they are passing on the good they receive from others,' the speaker said and added that he was going away from Hong Kong with a feeling of very deepest regret. Hong Kong was the only home he knew and his friends here were more than all the others in the world put together. 'I hope to be back again and do hope to see a great deal of my Chinese friends.'

SPEAKERS THANKED

The Hon. Mr. M. K. Li then addressed the gathering and proposed a vote of thanks to the speakers because their addresses were in the nature of 'Swan songs.' On behalf of the Rotary Club he expressed its members' regret at the loss of two fellow Rotarians and while he wished success to Mr. S. Yamanaka in his new appointment at Hokkaido, he wished happiness to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bell on their retirement.

POPPY DAY FUND

A Thought

"You saw him, he had just returned on leave from France. What a thrill of pride you felt in his mud-stained tunic, his battered shrapnel-helmet—'Tin-hat' he called it. You remember how he hunched the weight of his equipment to the other shoulder as he answered with a happy grin 'Ten days!'... Did he come through all right? You have sometimes wondered... but not often of late. It is a long time since the War, and we are apt to forget... yet there are obligations we should remember."

GIVE IT A NAME

When you ask a bullock-driver in Australia to "give it a name" there is every possibility of receiving a liberal education in vituperative criticism. But he will surely give it a name. When a nation, or a Colony for that matter, fails to make its accounts balance, it is given a name. Usually a name that spreads into a phrase, such as, "non-achievement of budgetary equilibrium".

So on and so forth. In fact, such is the exactness of things to-day that if it hasn't a name then it doesn't exist. If you don't name it, it just isn't.

Take Japan's military excursions into Manchuria in which there was no declared war. Somehow it looked like war. But war had been banned by the Kellogg Pact and the League of Nations. And, anyway, Japan wasn't calling it that. Nor did it Duce feel bound to call it that when sending troops into Ethiopia. Moreover, he made it clear that if anyone else did he would feel very offended.

Hong Kong is presumed to be blessed as far as the willingness of people to work is concerned. Strikes are far and few between. But in less humid climes where labour seems very restless there is always some sort of trouble about something at which one side accuses the other of committing a "lock-out" or "shut-down" whilst the other maintains that a "strike" has been perpetrated.

We have just heard of a splendid example where the parties to an industrial upheaval and great difficulty in giving it a name.

When a few hundred workers in an American factory were involved in what they term a "sit-down strike", the company closed the factory and 10,000

FIRE IN LIBRARY IN CANTON

Nanking, Oct. 26. At 7 p.m. yesterday, a fire broke out in the library of the Home Affairs Department, destroying three buildings containing valuable books dealing with the history of China.

Fortunately, the fire was extinguished before it reached the buildings containing the official records of the Government.

It is understood that the fire originated through defects in the wires of the electric light installation. — Chinese Evening Press.

JAPANESE ECONOMIC PROGRAMME

The Japanese are leaving no stone unturned to carry out their economic programme in North China, according to the "Shun Pao." It is now learned that the Japanese International Finance Company is to open a branch in Tientsin shortly to handle foreign exchange transaction and that another Japanese company has purchased 300 mow of land near Tientsin and will open a huge brick factory.

BROOCH FOR PRINCESS

The Princess Royal made her first visit as Colonel-in-Chief to the Royal Corps of Signals at Catterick, Yorkshire recently.

Brigadier H. Clement-Smith, colonel of the corps, presented her with a diamond brooch representing the corps badge. He said: "It was given by 12,388 post officers, warrant officers, N.C.O.s and men of the corps, also Supplementary Reserve and Territorial Army."

employees became idle. A spokesman for the company said it wasn't a "lock-out", and the labour spokesman declared it wasn't a "strike".

They both agreed, however, that the stopping of work was "the only orderly way to handle the situation."

Maybe it was. Or wasn't it? In any event, one thinks of the Negro interrogator cross-examining another coloured man: "Is you married?"

"I ain't saying I ain't."

"I ain't asking you is you ain't I'm asking you ain't you is."

BRITAIN IN 1950, AS SEEN BY M.P.

6-Hour Day, Healthier People, No War

A campaign to increase the birth-rate, a six-hour working day, peace in Europe, and the League of Nations as a purely moral force were envisaged by Mr. Duncan Sandys, M.P. for Norwood, when he addressed the 1912 Club on "British Politics during the period 1936-1950" in London recently.

He asked his audience to imagine that they were in the year 1950, and he was looking back over the developments of the previous 15 years.

"In the election of 1914," he said, "the supporters of the National Government, with the exception of some dissentients among the reactionaries, who were more than made up for by new recruits from the Labour and Trade Union camps, merged themselves into a single political party. Their outlook was vigorously Imperial, whereas in social policy they were radically progressive."

The social reforms included a national campaign, involving large scale expenditure to raise the standard of health, feeding, clothing, and general physical fitness and to increase the birth-rate.

"The Progressive Government had also been successful in reducing the hours of work, by stages, to six a day," he said. "It had been found that the arbitrary reduction of hours with a corresponding reduction of wage was economically impossible. The only method, therefore, to reduce hours had been to increase the output of work per man."

This had been achieved by subsidisation by the Government of all firms which introduced approved labour-saving machinery.

THE EMPIRE

"In the field of Imperial politics," he continued, "the most important single event during the period was the creation of the Empire Industrial Development Board. The principle was accepted that the United Kingdom, on the one hand, needed a flourishing agriculture, and that, on the other hand, it was essential for the Dominions to develop large manufacturing industries."

Of the League of Nations, Mr. Sandys said that after the fiasco of the Abyssinian War it "tacitly abdicated, its role as a coercive force," and as a purely moral force for peace its influence had proved "increasingly powerful."

"The League had been greatly aided in its work by the religious revival in all countries in the early 'forties. The armaments race which had begun in 1934 continued increasingly to impoverish Europe for a decade, but did not lead to war."

"The reason was that with the development of scientific warfare, no country knew what secret devastating weapons the other possessed, and therefore, no country was sufficiently confident to strike the first blow." — "Morning Post."

MR. W.R. HEARST'S WELSH HOME

Museum Of British Treasures

ELIZABETHAN BEDS—WITH PHONES

"I have so many American interests that I find it impossible to spend more time at my Welsh home," said Mr. W. R. Hearst, the United States newspaper magnate, to me recently when I was shown over St. Donats Castle, his Twelfth Century Welsh residence on the rock bound coast of the Bristol Channel, writes the "Morning Post" special correspondent.

Mr. Hearst is spending a holiday in Britain and pursuing his hobby—the collection of antiques.

Within the turreted walls of the castle he has a museum which contains one of the finest private art collections in the world.

Mr. Hearst himself pointed out with a connoisseur's enthusiasm some of the chief features of the collection, and mentioned that he intended to further enhance its value by the transference of more specimens from his seat in California—once a Spanish castle.

"These treasures," he said, "should be in St. Donats Castle, their natural home."

Among the treasures he showed me were a pair of silver fire dogs, with the monogram of Charles II., and cherry-coloured lacquered silver stands said to have belonged to Nell Gwynne.

THE BARONIAL HALL

In the ancient baronial hall, with its log fires, there is a beautifully carved stone screen. A Tudor Rose ceiling, Mr. Hearst told me, was cast aside from a Boston church, recovered and renovated, shipped to Europe and installed in the banqueting hall.

Upstairs he has a magnificent collection of muskets, armoury, lances, saddlery and long bows.

The recently-conditioned Queen Anne Tower contains three of the most perfect specimens of Elizabethan four-poster beds in existence. A modern touch is that each bed-room is fitted with a bedside telephone and the old-time chandeliers are fitted with electric light.

In the grounds there is one of the largest private swimming pools in the world.

Asked how he came to purchase St. Donats Castle, Mr. Hearst said that he bought a wonderful Queen Anne table about 11 years ago from the then owner of the castle, and later further antiques came his way. He became interested in their source and made inquiries. These resulted in his receiving photographs of the castle's exterior and interior, which inspired an interest in the building, with the sequel that he purchased it outright ten years ago.

Since then he has spent thousands of pounds on its restoration to the periods to which it belonged.

NEW COURT OF MATRIMONY

Marriage Tangles Smoothed Out

London's latest attempt at smoothing some of the tangles of married life began recently when the East Ham Matrimonial Court held its first sitting, states the "Daily Telegraph."

Mr. W. R. Howard, the East Ham stipendiary magistrate, presided, and was assisted by two other magistrates, Mrs. Ada Hudson and Mr. Bertram Keene.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Home Secretary, the Court sat in the evening, so that the parties and witnesses might not lose money or work by attending during the day.

Before the court opened husbands, wives and witnesses sat in the corridor—the husbands on one side, the wives on the other.

In the brightly lit—but rather cold—court the magistrates sat listening as husbands and wives came forward and told their troubles.

The clerk put question after question, first to the husband and then to the wife, trying to smooth out the troubles, minimise difficulties, amplify points of agreement—sometimes succeeding, sometimes failing.

Although complainants took the oath and stood in the witness-box to tell their story, the proceedings were as informal as possible. Occasionally the clerk, husband and wife joined in a three-cornered discussion—sometimes to the accompaniment of the crying of a child in the corridor.

Nearly all the people who came to the court were youthful; some had been married only a few months; some a few years. Sometimes, when husbands attempted to cross-examine their wives, tempers rose, both wanted to talk at once, but the patient, calm intervention of the clerk quickly put matters right.

GALES SWEEP OVER BRITISH ISLES TRAMCAR OVERTURNED IN GLASGOW

Vessels In Distress

Fierce gales which have been sweeping over the British Isles for the past two days continue unabated. At Glasgow gusts of 89 miles per hour were registered last night, and in other parts of Scotland and Northern England much damage was done by storm.

An exceptionally severe gust struck a tramcar in Glasgow. The deck was lifted off and the vehicle was carried across the street on to the pavement when it turned over. Three persons were injured.

The most serious effects of the gale which was still blowing in gusts at 80 miles per hour this morning occurred at sea. Lifeboats were called out in several parts to assist vessels in distress. The Solway Firth fishing fleet was caught in the gale and fifteen drifters were unaccounted for when a lifeboat put out in answer to distress flares, but all ultimately reached Maryport, Cumberland, in safety.

The steamship American Shipper of the United States Line, in answer to whose S.O.S. sailing she was rudderless in the Irish Sea two Liverpool tugs put out but were forced back by mountainous seas, reached safe anchorage in Dublin Bay this morning with two Dublin tugs in attendance.

QUEEN MARY'S EXPERIENCE
The Queen Mary docked at Southampton three and a half hours behind schedule last night, having encountered very heavy seas. With a 55 miles per hour wind on her quarter during the last two days of the voyage, she rolled considerably and some of the passengers suffered injury. The Captain stated that the vessel behaved well considering the weather. Despite the gale and reduction to half speed for some periods, the passage was completed at an average speed of 27.84 knots. Queen Victoria of Spain, Lord Louthian and Miss Kay Stammers, the tennis player, were among the passengers.

TRAIN FERRY DELAYS
All shipping on the Clyde and Mersey was storm-bound this morning. In the English Channel conditions were less severe, but the train ferry steamer from Dover to Dunkirk was delayed for nine hours, passengers spending the night in their sleeping cars, and there was five hours delay in the train ferry steamer in the opposite direction.

Lifeboats were still out this morning assisting small vessels in distress at several parts of the coast.—Reuter's Wireless.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHTS

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)
Hamburg, Oct. 27.
The technical questions of the Transatlantic flights were discussed by the technical director of the Luft Hansa, Freiherr von Gablenz in an interview with a representative of the “Hamburger Fremdenblatt.”

Gablenz said that eight flights had so far been undertaken, and all kinds of weather had been encountered. Strong gales frequently necessitated blind flying, and another formidable obstacle to overcome was the New Foundland fogs.

Dornier-Wal planes, with Junkers Heavy Oil Motors were employed on these trips and proved to be a splendid success.—Transocean News Service.

This figure creates a record. Its insurance will take effect from early next year and will be operative for three years. The Queen Mary was insured while under construction for £2,700,000. No. 552 is to value at £4,500,000.

PORTUGAL AS ACCUSER

Soviet Activities In Spain

London, Oct. 26.
Sensational revelations and accusations against Soviet Russia are contained in the 21 page official note to the Non-Intervention Committee submitted Monday by Portugal.

The note, which has roused uncommon comment in diplomatic circles, states that the whole Spanish conflict was planned and incited by Soviet agents, and that one aim was to involve Portugal also in the war. It is also revealed that during the February session of the Committee in Moscow, a complete plan for making Spain Communist was revealed, and in March a group of well-known Communist agitators, including Bela Kun, Losowsky, Janson, Riedel, Primac, Verzin, Neumann arrived in Barcelona. Shortly after that large shipments of weapons and munitions began to arrive.

The note goes on to declare that the Madrid Government is under the dictatorship of Moses Rosenberg, who is the head of a group of 140 Russian agents, and the fact that Rosenberg is present at every session of the Spanish Cabinet is pointed out as significant, since it is certainly without parallel in diplomatic circles.

Commenting on the accusation of Soviet Russia that Portugal had broken the Non-Intervention Pact, the note declares that Portugal does not recognise the right of Soviet Russia to busy itself with Portuguese affairs.

It is furthermore reported that the Italian Government has prepared a second note revealing 20 cases of violation of the Non-Intervention Agreement by Soviet Russia. This last note will not be submitted, unless Soviet Russia continue on her present policy.—Transocean News Service.

SOVIET INFLUENCE IN SPAIN

Alleged Preparation For Revolution

London, Oct. 26.
The contention that the Spanish civil war is the outcome of Soviet influence in Spanish affairs is contained in the Portuguese note to the International Non-Intervention Committee in London, under the presidency of Lord Plymouth, despatched by the Lisbon Government in response to charges by the Soviet of Portuguese infractions of the non-intervention pact.

Portugal's note claims that the U.S.S.R. methodically prepared a leftist revolution in Spain, and built up a vast organisation, “supplied with rich means of propaganda and action.”

In support of this contention, the note alleges the famous Communists, M. Bela Kun, arrived in Barcelona in March, with other Soviet agents. The note further alleges that the Soviet Ambassador, M. Rosenberg, is “the hidden spirit” behind the Madrid Government and that he has even participated in Cabinet meetings.

The note is regarded in diplomatic circles as mainly a statement of the attitude of the Portuguese Government.—Reuter.

PORTUGAL'S BREAK WITH MADRID

Reasons Explained

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)
London, Oct. 27.
In a note to the ex-Ambassador Albornoz, the Portuguese Foreign Minister explained the reasons for Portugal's break with Madrid. They are:

1. The unfriendly procedure of the Madrid Government at the League of Nations session on the occasion of the attacks launched against Portugal.
2. Madrid's violation of diplomatic secrecy.
3. The search of diplomatic post in Alicante and the breach of the rules of extraterritoriality.
4. The behaviour of the local officials at Tarragona where refugees were being shipped on Portuguese vessels.—Transocean News Service.

Paris, Oct. 26.
The French Communist Party addressed a letter to the Committees of the Socialist Internationale and the International Socialist Federation, which are holding a joint meeting here. The Communists executive suggests that their delegates should also take part in the deliberations, and that then pressure might be brought to bear on the democratic Governments, to induce them to abandon their neutrality towards the Spanish Civil War.

The letter goes on to stress how important it is to prevent the transportation of arms to the Nationalists and on the other hand how food ought urgently to be sent to the “victims of the Civil War in Spain.”—Transocean News Service.

TRADE UNION RESOLUTION

Paris, Oct. 26.
A resolution calling upon the British and French Governments to take steps to re-establish complete freedom of trade in favour of the Spanish Government, in consequence of the failure of the Non-Intervention Agreement, was adopted to-day by a joint meeting of the International Federation of Trade Unions and Labour International.

The resolution also invites trade unions throughout the world to prevent supplies being sent to the Spanish rebels.—Reuter.

NON-INTERVENTION COMMITTEE

London, Oct. 27.
As it is understood that the Soviet Government have not yet received further instructions in reply to the recent enquiry addressed to them by the committee for application of agreement regarding non-intervention in Spain, it has been decided not to summon the chairman's sub-committee to-day, but a meeting of the full committee will take place as originally arranged to-morrow.—British Wireless.

ITALO-GERMAN PROTOCOL

London, Oct. 26.
Reports that an Italo-German protocol has been signed, confirming the status quo in the Western Mediterranean, have been received in diplomatic circles in London. From information obtained from various sources the protocol report appears well-founded.

The protocol provides, it is understood, that Spanish sovereignty in the Balearic Islands shall be maintained.

COMMUNIST DANGER

Meanwhile, Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, the new German Ambassador, has arrived in London. Herr Adolf Hitler is convinced, the new Ambassador said on arrival, that the only real danger for Europe and the British Empire is the spreading of the doctrine of Communism.

He added that close collaboration between Britain and Germany was a vital necessity in their common struggle to uphold their civilisation.

Arms were raised in the Nazi salute by top-hatted leaders of the German community in London as the Ambassador alighted from the train at Victoria Station.—Reuter.

RIVAL ELECTION CANDIDATES

Roosevelt To Go On Tour

New York, Oct. 26.
President F. D. Roosevelt and his rival for office, Governor Alfred Landon, Republican, have commenced the grand finale of their intensive contest and are bidding for large blocks of electoral votes in the eastern United States.

While the President sat in the White House during the week-end preparing his final speeches, which he will deliver in Pennsylvania, New York and near-by states, Governor Landon pursued his coast-to-coast route to New York, via important eastern centres.

The President plans to move northward from Washington to-morrow night in a special train for a speaking tour in New York State, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, which, together, represent 100 electoral votes.

His attendance at the fiftieth birthday celebrations of New York harbour's famous Statue of Liberty, will open his final tour. This culminates in his major speech to New Yorkers on October 31 at Madison Square Garden.

The President proposes to broadcast this final appeal for votes on the eve of the election. Meanwhile, Governor Landon, with the doctor still in attendance to care for his throat, continues his campaign journey aboard the “Sunflower Special,” just back from California.

A major address at Philadelphia to-night, will be followed by another at Pittsburgh, Pa. before he commences to sum up the entire issues of the final campaign in his final speech in the east, October 29, at Madison Square Garden.

Governor Landon also plans to deliver an appeal by radio on the eve of the election.—Reuter.

MADRID PRAISE FOR ROSENBERG

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)
Paris, Oct. 27.
Warm tribute to the Soviet Ambassador in Madrid, Moses Rosenberg has been paid by the Foreign Minister of the Marxist Government in a speech to the Committee of the Red Militia in the Spanish capital, according to a report to the “Matin” which states that Del Vayo emphasised that Rosenberg was invariably at the Spanish Government's disposal, alike for advice as for practical help.

Del Vayo further dwelt on the valuable help rendered the “cause of liberty” in Spain by Soviet Russia and declared in this connection that a large supply of arms from Soviet Russia were to arrive in Madrid shortly.—Transocean News Service.

Protest At Club Meeting

Addressing the meeting, Mr. Rosset said:—

Before proceeding with the business of the meeting, I desire on behalf of this Club to express sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. A. F. L. Maginnis, who passed away during the year, and as a mark of respect to his memory, I would ask you to rise and remain standing for a brief moment.

Your Committee feel gratified at being able to come before you today with a Report and Statement of Accounts which compare so favourably with the previous year. Having regard to the difficulties encountered during the year under review, coupled with the prevailing hard times through which we are passing, and which naturally affected the spending power of members generally, I venture to express the opinion that you will consider the results achieved as highly satisfactory.

Bearing in mind the fact that we had an up-to-date refrigerator installed towards the end of last year, which was paid for in cash out of earnings, you will realise that the Bar has done remarkably well. Our Bar Convener, Mr. J. S. Landolt, has been untiring in his efforts in running the Bar, and for the fine results accomplished, we are indebted to him and the other members of the Bar Sub-Committee. I feel sure you will join me in giving expression to a vote of thanks to them for their work on behalf of the Club. (Applause).

LIGHTING INCREASE

On looking through the Accounts, you will find that the cost of lighting has gone up, but not to such an extent as to cause any alarm, when it is remembered that the refrigerator consumes a great deal of current, and this was more pronounced during the summer months. Our fortnightly Whist Drives take up a portion of the amount expended, but this was more than offset by the profits which accrued from such functions.

The amount debited to Dances may appear somewhat excessive, but it must be noted that on the occasion of the Dinner Dance given in honour of Messrs. Bradbury and Beer, the Club defrayed all expenses, with the exception of the charge made for practically the cost of the dinner only. The general account shows a debit increase of over $500 more than the previous year, but this could be accounted for by less members joining up, and a slightly larger number of resignations. Expenditure under repairs and renewals has decreased considerably, and revenue derived from the billiard tables show an appreciable increase.

SPORTING ACTIVITIES

Turning to our sporting activities, I consider that we have enjoyed an exceptionally successful year. Our lawn bowls "A" team again won the First Division shield, this time for the third year in succession, thus accomplishing another "hat-trick." Lawn bowls in this Club is increasing in popularity, and there may come a time when we shall find our existing bowling green totally inadequate to meet the demand.

The running of three teams in the League was no easy matter, and whilst there had been certain inevitable dissensions, I am glad to say that members on the whole co-operated splendidly. Our success in this branch of sport was primarily due to the spirit of harmony which prevailed throughout the whole season, and for this happy state of affairs I desire to pay a tribute to the work of our Lawn Bowls Convener, Mr. E. (I) Arculli, and the other members of the Sub-Committee. (Applause). Mr. Arculli also very efficiently represented this Club on the Council of the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Association. To him and those associated with him, I propose a hearty vote of thanks. (Applause).

MEMBERS' SUCCESSES

Individual members of this Club have again distinguished themselves. Following the example set by Dr. Altanza, a member of last year's victorious team, our President, B. W. Bradbury, successfully skipped the Hong Kong team at Waukegan, thus retaining the "Exhibition Cup" for another year. Mr. A. E. Coates crowned his bowling career by winning the lawn bowls singles Championship, and a rink comprising Messrs. R. F. (Liz) (skip), W. V. Field, A. S. Gomes and J. S. Landolt won the Colony Rink Championship. To these players, and also to Mr. R. Bass for winning the Club's Singles Championship, I extend hearty congratulations. (Applause).

Our Tennis section has also done remarkably well, and it is a matter of satisfaction to be able to record that our "D" team won the "D" Division of the Tennis League. The players responsible for this fine achievement deserve our congratulations. The competitions have been well organised and finished in good time, for which I should like to express thanks to the Tennis Convener, Mr. W. J. Howard, who has always worked hard in the interest of the Tennis Section. (Applause).

CRICKETERS' BAD YEAR

The Cricketers have had a bad year, and it is a matter of disappointment that we cannot point to any success on their part. Nevertheless, several enjoyable games were played, and with the advent of new officials I sincerely hope that every effort will be made to produce better results this year.

You will observe from the Annual Report that a special paragraph has been inserted under the heading of Social activities. Since the departure of Mr. Beer, who was one of the few in introducing Whist Drives in this Club, all work in connection with such functions were willingly carried on by Messrs. W. K. Way, A. E. Coates and R. R. Wood, assisted from time to time by others.

This Club is indeed fortunate in finding such members who are prepared to sacrifice their spare time in catering to the entertainment of their fellow members and visitors during our fortnightly Whist Drives, incidentally bringing in additional revenue to the Club. To these gentlemen, and others too numerous to mention, I would ask you to join me in passing a hearty vote of thanks. (Applause).

In conclusion, I desire to place on record my appreciation of the services rendered by various officials, who have been conscientious in looking after the interests of the Club.

The report and statement of accounts were seconded by Mr. W. V. Field and carried unanimously.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The election of officers resulted as follows:—President, B. W. Bradbury; Vice-President, C. S. Rosset; Hon. Secretary, W. K. Way; Hon. Treasurer, A. E. Coates; Cricket Capt. 1st XI, E. Zimmermann; Vice-Capt. A. B. Hamson; Capt. 2nd XI, J. L. Youngs; Vice-Capt. A. Kitchell; Hon. Auditor, E. Reading; Committee, W. J. Howard, E. Zimmermann, R. Bass, Dr. V. N. Altanza, Dr. N. P. Karanjia, A. B. Hamson, J. S. Landolt and A. E. Alves.

DISCUSSION

Following the election of officers, the meeting agreed to the usual honoraria granted to the Hon. Secretary, Hon. Treasurer and Hon. Auditor.

Mr. W. V. Field said that an approximate date should be fixed for the taking down of the banks surrounding the lawn bowls green. He reminded members that every other year the Shanghai Interport lawn bowlers visited the Colony and there was the possibility of a match being played at the Craigengower.

Mr. Zimmermann, after making the comments already mentioned on page 1, added that he would like to propose that the banks be put up in the first week in April and taken down in the first week in October.

The Chairman assured Mr. Zimmermann of his personal interest in the matter and Mr. Zimmermann withdrew his proposal.

Mr. Elliott continued with the proposal, and was seconded by Mr. Cunningham, but when put to the meeting the proposition was defeated.

CLUB'S FINANCES

Discussion followed regarding Club coupons, the Chairman assured members that the Club coupons could be redeemed at any time.

Mr. Gillard raised the question of the Club's financial position and the Chairman replied said that for the past eight years the question of raising the subscriptions had been raised to get over the difficulty of the actual cash position of the Club. With regard to Club repairs, the Chairman added that they had architects to view the premises and they had furnished a report that the premises were in a good state of repair. For the past few years, he said, various members had sounded other members regarding the question of increased subscription and he (the

CHALLE TO CONTINUE

Paris, Oct. 28.

A message has been received from Jacques Challe and J. Brille that, having repaired the trouble with their lubrication system, they have changed their minds and will continue the race. They plan to take off at 7.30 a.m. to-morrow.

They are at present at Lyons, more than a full day behind the leaders, Michel Detroyat and Gaston Durmont.—Reuter.

ARNOUX GIVES UP

Karachi, Oct. 28.

ArnoUX and Japy arrived over the aerodrome here at 6.05 p.m. (G.M.T.) to-day, well ahead of the other competitors in the Paris-Saigon race. But their retractable undercarriage jammed as they were about to come to a landing.

They circled the field for 35 minutes and exhausted their petrol before making a landing in which they knew they must crash.

ArnoUX, at the controls, made a remarkably skilful landing, but unfortunately damaged the left wing of his machine, and repairs cannot be effected locally. The flight has therefore been abandoned and the occupants of the racing plane are returning to France by the Royal Dutch mail plane.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

GERMAN FLYING BOATS

Berlin, Oct. 28.

A most enthusiastic reception was accorded the 9 members of the two Luft Hansa flying boats that crossed the North Atlantic successfully for 8 times in the recent trial flights to the U.S.A.

General Milch, Secretary of State in the Air Ministry, formerly organiser of the Luft Hansa, greeted the flyers on their arrival at Tempelhof, while Dr. Lippert, State Commissioner for the city of Berlin, presented them with a plaque of the city. Air Minister, General Goering sent a congratulatory telegram to the Luft Hansa.—Transocean News Service.

Chairman) would like to hear the views of members at the meeting.

The Chairman proposed increasing the annual subscription from $15 annually to $2 per month which would bring in an increase of about $2,000. But this would have to be brought at an extraordinary general meeting which, he said, would in all probability be held in the near future.

The question of ladies, who were not wives or relatives of members, participating in the Club's mixed doubles tennis tournament, was discussed, and Mr. Field informed the meeting that he would give a prize next season to be competed for by members and their wives or relatives in the mixed doubles tennis tournament.

Another member suggested that there be a suggestions box placed in the Club and this was approved.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Bass to Mr. Rosset for presiding at the meeting.

CORONATION PROCESSION TO BE TELEVISED

Mobile Station In £20,000 Van

Plans have been made by the B.B.C. for televising the whole of the Coronation procession, states the "Daily Telegraph."

Proposals for televising the actual ceremony inside Westminster Abbey await official sanction.

The broadcast of the procession will be made possible by the purchase of a £20,000 television van, the first of its type in the world, it will be virtually a mobile television station.

The van, now under construction at Hayes, Middlesex, will work on the Marconi-E.M.I. system. Emission cameras, used from the roof of the ground, will pick up the passing pageant.

Inside the van will be a control room connected to Broadcasting House by a special cable. From Broadcasting House, a similar cable for carrying television pictures has already been laid by the Post Office to the transmitters at Alexandra Palace.

It is possible, also, that experiments will be made with microwave transmission between the van and Broadcasting House to dispense with the cable link.

Another experimental transmission was successfully carried out at Alexandra Palace. Mr. Cecil Lewis toured the North London Home-Life Exhibition and showed televisioners the various exhibits. It was the first television preview of an exhibition and was accomplished under conditions of peculiar difficulty.

About 30 members of the B.B.C. staff had to assist in carrying

HOCKEY

Fusiliers Beat 1/8th Punjab

No excitement was evinced in the hockey match played yesterday between the Royal Welch Fusiliers and the 1/8 Punjab on the former's ground until the latter part of the second half. The R.W.F. won by the odd goal in three. Lal Singh opened the scoring for the Indians in the first half, and the score remained unchanged until well into the second.

Fus. Connor started the scoring for the Welchmen, and L's Bruten added another about five minutes before the close of the game.

There were many hard falls in the second half, and the soldiers could not tell whether or not the plays were foul. However, they kept their tempers, and the game ended without any untoward incident.

The teams: Royal Welch Fusiliers: Fus. Reid, L/c Palmer, Fus. Griffiths, Fus. Jones, Sgt. Pepper (Capt.) Corp. Fueker, L/c Simmonds, L/c Lewis, Fus. Connor and Fus. Roberts. Punjab: N. Mohamed, A. DURHAM'S 60 YEARS OF RUGBY

A History Of Courage And Success

In its Diamond Jubilee Book Durham has achieved something more worthy of the literature of Rugby Football than an attenuated list of records, which has so often been thought adequate to such an occasion. writes "Sevenis in the Morning Post." "Durham County Rugby Union" is the title, and the authors are C. Berkeley Cowell and E. Watts Moses. It is published by Andrew Reid, Newcastle-on-Tyne, at 5s. and is likely to find its way to the bookshelves of many who have no first-hand knowledge of Durham Rugby football.

To start with, the history of the game in Durham County is one of difficulties overcome, of unquenchable enthusiasm, and of a pride which has known how to meet failure after hardly-achieved success and how to fight back to distinction. The authors have throughout preserved a just and proportionate view of the game, bearing always in mind the work of rank and file, which has made personal triumphs by the "giants" no more than part of the integral team-work fabric.

This history is "mutatis mutandis," the history which counties who do not own it should covet. A quotation or two will serve to show the general interest the book possesses for all who, as players or spectators, follow the game.

"TO ALL FORWARDS"

"Wot makes the forward's heart to break, what raises of 'is gall? It isn't getting up to line nor chasing o' the ball; It's the everlasting shovin' and the universal call—

"PUSH, BLAST YE!"

"Bear you always in mind, the fundamentals of Rugby are sound scrummaging. Forwards are the basis of our game."

Read, too, of J. W. Sowerby, with his epitaph, "He was an everlasting stayer"; of Tom Watson, who died at 95, slipped greyhounds at 15, shot elk in Scandinavia, landed salmon from Loch Tay for 35 consecutive years, and walked 55 miles in 19 1/2 hours in the Lake District; of George Summerscales, who "when well over forty years of age, with considerable overseas war service, and by now a dignified member of the selection committee, rather than see his county let down by a defaulting forward, took the field against Northumberland in a far from kid-glove encounter."

And then consider the report of a match played in 1898: "When they strip for work (football certainly is a grand sport, but it can hardly be called play) (sic), so lithe and liny were they, with not an ounce of superfluous fat upon one of them and lots of sound muscle, some of us could not help exclaiming. By jove, we'll get a licking—what fine, active fellows. They'll beat us in wind. One was quite a little chap, but he did play well and proved himself a thorough game chicken."

Yes; this is distinctly a game chicken of a book, and should be in every Rugby "chicken run."

Autographs Thrown Overboard

England's Test cricketers on board the steamship Orion saw a magnificent piece of seamanship in heavy seas when three Malays and an Englishman in a sailing boat cleverly picked up a cask which was thrown overboard off the Cocos Islands, states the "Daily Mail."

In addition to the postal matter in the cask was an autographed photograph of the Test team.

Within an hour of the barrel being retrieved a wireless message was received, which stated, "Thank G. O. Allen for autographs, we all wish bon voyage and good luck. Signed, Ryder, Direction Island."

The members of the Test team had a magnificent view of the Coral Islands the last land which they viewed before making Fremantle.

H. K. RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Details Of New Clubhouse

READY BY NEXT YEAR

We have received a copy of the H.K.R.A. Bulletin, the official organ of the Hong Kong Rifle Association, for July-September, published on the 25th instant. It contains many interesting articles for the rifleman, outstanding of which is one relating to the new clubhouse, which is expected to be completed in December.

Accompanying drawings, showing the elevation and layout of the clubhouse, the work of Major D. H. Steers, R.E., indicate that it will be a neat structure.

States the "Bulletin": "The accommodation provides a Club Room where meals will be obtainable when the ranges are in use by the Association, while for those who require liquid refreshment only, a Canteen is being provided for their special needs. A Cleaning Room will be available, with vices affixed to the benches so that rifles may be cleaned before and after shooting with everything to hand, so that the present appalling inconvenience experienced by all who try to clean their rifles on the firing-point, will be a thing of the past. In this room, forty-eight lockers will be at the disposal of members who care to pay a small annual hiring fee, thus allowing those who wish to keep their special shooting clothing and "gear" on the range, to do so; such members will therefore only require to bring their rifles with them and to take them away afterwards. Ample lavatory accommodation has been included as well as two Shower-Baths, a Dressing Room, and a Cloak Room. A combined Committee Room and Secretary's Office adjoins the Cleaning Room, while the Servery is fitted with serving hatches to the Canteen on one side, and to the Club Room on the other. There is also a Store Room for articles such as scoring boards and tripods etc.; and a room for the caretaker.

On each side of the centrally-placed Club Room, is a tiled verandah from which an excellent view of Nos. 1 and 2 Ranges is obtainable, and we anticipate, particularly in the hot weather, that many of our members will seize the opportunity of sitting here in the shade, watching the progress of the shooting. When the weather becomes really cold, the opportunity of enjoying a meal or other refreshment, seated in front of an open fire, will be, we venture to say, something for all to look forward to.

SWIMMING

R. H. Lelvers won the Staffordshire 220 yards swimming championship at Newcastle-under-Lyme recently but failed in his attempt to lower the English record for the distance, held by Norman Walnwright with 2min. 17 4/5-sec. Lelvers's time was 2min. 21sec. Walnwright did not defend his title last night, and Lelvers won easily from J. Barlow (Hanley), whose time was 2min. 47 3/5-sec.

Abbot-street School, Manchester, won the schoolboys' team swimming championship of England at Newcastle-on-Tyne last night. They beat Springfield Council School (Sheffield) by three yards. East Ham Grammar School were third. Walsall Blue Coat Senior fourth, and Bristol Redcliffe Endowed last.

FROM FOOTBALL TO BOXING

Captain A. J. Prince-Cox has resigned his position as secretary-manager to Bristol Rovers, a position he has held since 1930, to take up a boxing appointment at Plymouth. Captain Prince-Cox succeeded Mr. David McLean, now secretary-manager of the East Fife Club.

At a board meeting of the Bristol Rovers directors the resignation was accepted. For many years a League referee, Captain Prince-Cox found it impossible to carry on owing to knee trouble. He was one of the most widely travelled football referees, having controlled international matches between Continental countries.

CHARITY MATCH

Royal Navy To Meet The Army

THE "KOTEWALL CUP"

The first of the present season's football matches on behalf of charity takes place at Caroline Hill on Wednesday next, November 4, at 4 p.m. when the Royal Navy are due to meet the Army.

The Chinese and Combined Services Charitable (Kotewall Cup) Competition, to give its full title was originated in 1934 when the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., LL.D. presented a magnificent silver cup for annual competition.

The underlying object of this Competition is to raise money for charitable purposes to meet, as far as possible, cases presented to the Committee by the representatives of South China Athletic Association (for Chinese), the Royal Naval Recreation Club (for Royal Navy and Royal Marines) and the Hong Kong Area Sports Board (for the Army). Gate money taken at the three matches is pooled and disbursed at the discretion of the Committee according to the urgency of appeals for assistance.

As a result of the 1934/35 Competition, which was won by the Army, the sum of $1456 was distributed, mostly to Chinese Charities. The 1935/36 Competition, also won by the Army, produced the sum $2008 of which $500 was allotted by the Committee to Royal Naval Charities, $500 to Army Charities, and the remainder $1008 to Chinese charities.

Three teams compete in the Competition, viz., Royal Navy, Army and South China Athletic Association. As already indicated the Navy and Army have been drawn to play at Caroline Hill on Wednesday, November 4. The other two games in the Competition will be played later in the season.

Prices of admission, for the Navy v. Army game next week are as follows: Covered stand—$1, uncovered stands, 50 cts. and 30 cts. Services (in uniform only)—Covered stand 50 cts., other stands 30 cts.

It is hoped that all football enthusiasts and others charitably disposed will make for Caroline Hill on November 4, to witness what will undoubtedly be a grand exhibition of competitive football.

WRESTLING MATCH

Canton Y.M.C.A. Benefit Success

Wong Bok Chong and Young Aginaldo staged a thrilling wrestling match last Saturday evening on the East Parade Ground. There were about 3,000 in attendance. Excited shouts, laughter, and appreciative claps from the spectators accompanied the bout.

The good sportsmanship shown by the wrestlers caught on with the spectators who evinced a sporting spirit by impartially giving recognition to either Chinese or Filipino contestant for any special feat.

It is understood that some $2,000 were netted all of which will be donated to the Gift Airplane Funds. The Y.M.C.A. is to be congratulated for sponsoring the match which has resulted in an appreciable sum to swell the funds and in encouraging the people to enjoy the open air as well as take to sports and games.—("Canton Daily Sun.")

CHINESE DISSATISFIED

With Lai Wah Cup Game Against Army

The Chinese are likely to appeal to the Hong Kong Football Association Council concerning their Lai Wah Cup match against the Army on Sunday, with which they are alleged to be dissatisfied.

Dissatisfaction is stated to lie with the referee's decision to play extra time, and having made that decision, to abandon the game making necessary a replay.

The Management Committee is understood to have debated the matter but no official statement has been made.

It is probable that the matter will be brought up by the Chinese before the next Council meeting.

Consolidated figures for Manila banks as of August 29, 1936, again reflect the exceptional stock market activity, which is overshadowing other business and financial developments in the Philippines at the present time.

Cash decreased over P2,000,000 during the month, while loans, discounts and overdrafts increased over P6,000,000, due mainly, it appears, to credit granted on the security of mining shares. Demand deposits increased over P6,000,000, representing chiefly stock market profits. There was no considerable increase in savings time deposits, which are, however, P14,000,000 greater than at this time last year.

The net amount due to Manila banks from their branches in the provinces increased, suggesting an increase in credits granted by the provincial branches. Branches in Manila or foreign banks now show a small net amount owing to head offices, whereas in the past two or three months they have had credit balances with their head offices.

Debts to individual accounts again showed a marked increase, averaging P48,051,000 a week during August, as compared with only P21,130,000 a week in August, last year. A part of the increase, appears to be ascribable to increased activity in general business, but the greater part of it is due to stock market activity.

Circulation fell by off about P2,000,000 during the month but is still about P16,000,000 higher than at this time last year. Bank clearings, available only for domestic banks, continue to increase, also due mainly to stock markets activity. Amounting to P39,637,000 in August, they were ten per cent over the July figure and 142 per cent over August, 1935. For the first eight months of 1936, clearings by domestic banks have totaled P215,319,000, a 47 per cent increase over the same period of last year.

The value of import collections in August was three per cent greater than the July figure and 19 per cent greater than in August, 1935. For the first eight months of 1936, the value of import collections exceeds that for the same period last year by about P8,500,000 or 17 per cent. The value of commercial letters of credit opened increased sharply in August, being 55 per cent over the July figure and 69 per cent over the figure for August, 1935. This was due partly to letters of credit opened by one bank covering the importation of rice from Saigon, but most of the banks showed an increase as compared with the previous month or with August, 1935. The value of commercial letters of credit opened in the first eight months of 1936 exceeds that for the same period of 1935 by about P7,000,000, or 29 per cent.

Import collection bills continue to be met promptly, although some banks report a slight increase in requests for extensions. Domestic collections continue excellent in Manila and good throughout the rest of the Islands, with volume substantially greater than last year.

BOOMING INDUSTRY

London, Oct. 28.

It is estimated that contracts placed with British motor manufacturers during the ten days of the motor show at Olympia, reached the aggregate value of £28,000,000, or £22,000,000 more than that at last year's show.

The importance of the expansion of the demand in the motor industry in its effects on national prosperity, is shown by a computation of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders that, last year the industry used 850,000 tons of iron and steel, 8,000,000 square feet of glass, 2,070,000 gallons of paint and 100,000,000 board feet of timber, while it is estimated that 1,270,000 persons were gainfully occupied in the manufacture, sale, repair and the operation of motor vehicles.

TOURIST TRAFFIC

London, Oct. 28.

The important part taken by tourist traffic in the revival of international economic exchange, lends interest to the figures of overseas visitors to Great Britain in September which totalled 24,932, of whom 5,845 came from the United States, 5,312 from France and 3,732 from Germany.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pain can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained:-

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tortured stomach it begins to sweeten the sour, fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become as bland and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and presently disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon become tender and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:
"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."
H.C. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.
ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:
"'Bisurated' Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."
H.L. — Faculty of Medicine, Paris.

AMBASSADOR'S VISIT

Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, British Ambassador to China, is expected to come to Canton shortly from Shanghai en route to Hong Kong, information from authoritative sources reveals. It is generally believed that while in the south he will confer with both the Chinese and colonial authorities on the railway connection problem.

Besides the railway problem, the British authorities, it is understood, also intend to discuss with the Chinese authorities the extension of the Singapore-Hong Kong section of the British Empire Air Line to Shanghai. Whether this matter can materialize is, however, quite questionable, in view of many difficulties involved.

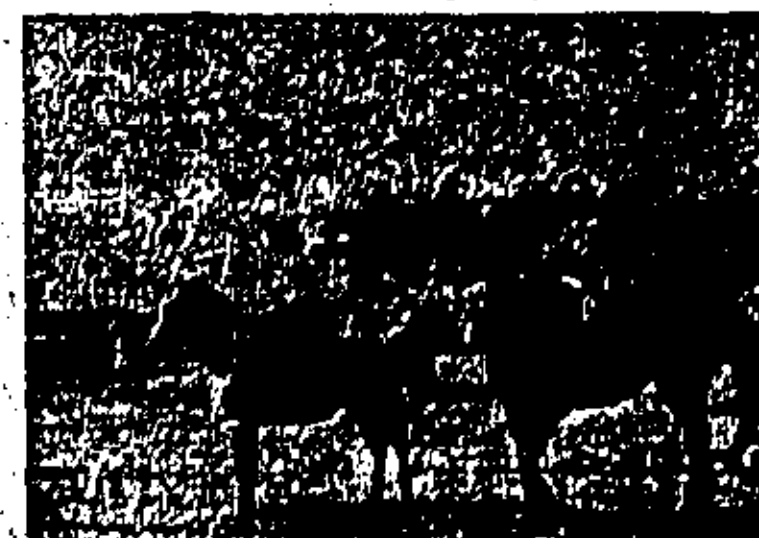

NEW CURRENCY POLICY

Following the enforcement of the new currency policy in Kwangtung by the Central Government, the value of the notes of the three Government banks in terms of Hong Kong currency has risen considerably. The present quotation is $100 legal tender notes to $96 (Hong Kong money). It is expected that the value of the two currencies will be at par in the future when Kwangtung's financial situation is further stabilized.

Large quantities of legal tender notes were shipped from Shanghai to Canton during the last few weeks, the greater part of which will be used for the redemption of the "small money" subsidiary notes issued under General Chen Ching-tang's regime.

OBITUARY

Miss Dorothy Inness

AN APPRECIATION

There died in London on October 12, Miss Dorothy Inness, who for many years was matron of the Matilda Hospital, Hong Kong.

We publish the following appreciation of the work and personality of the late Miss Inness which has been sent to us by Mrs. Richard Hancock, of The Homestead, Chobham, Surrey.—Editor "H.K.D.P."

There has passed from amongst us a great love and a rare personality, in Dorothy Inness.

The second of the succession of Matilda Hospital matrons, she left an ineradicable mark on the Colony. For us who knew her, is gone the security of her wonderful gift of friendship. With the fears we are apt to lose our illusions, but in her sense of adventure, her freshness of spirit, her love of the beautiful, we who were her friends recaptured the sweetness of the quiet heart. She was beautiful in all her ways. All who met her in her work left her with spirit as well as body recharged.

In her retirement she lived very simply in the quiet part of London that she chose, continuing her work of love and friendship, individually and without stint.

I remember her saying how thankful she felt to have had a life of discipline. I knew this meant that her sweet spirit of service never relaxed even in fatigue and disinclination, though the days of routine had finished.

Those of us who can recall delightful afternoons spent in her room, surrounded by the blue and gold beauty of Hong Kong, must now cherish memories of London evenings in the room always beautiful with great taste, and many flowers, distinct with her gracious and dignified personality, where she listened with wonderful sympathy to hopes and fears, joys and troubles.

There was about her a fragrance which had no date, but belonged to those who "have wings." Some of us have wings, most of us have not. But none of us who knew her can fail to have felt the gay uplift of hers.

The torch she carried to humbly, to beautifully, has now fallen from her hands—the hands that ministered. The door for us has closed—behind it are ineradicable memories—but the Gates surely for her have opened.
